SUBMISSIONS

The Journal of Musicology welcomes articles in all areas of musical scholarship, including history, criticism, analysis, and performance practice. The Journal does not regularly publish reviews, but invites proposals for review essays on important books, music editions, and conference reports. All articles are published in English. Submissions should be sent in electronic form (as an attachment to an e-mail message) to submissions@journalofmusicology.org. Please include an abstract and complete contact information (e-mail, telephone, and postal address). Full instructions, including a postal address for materials that cannot be sent electronically, are at www.journalofmusicology.org.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Sara Gross Ceballos is associate professor of musicology at Lawrence University. Her research focuses on eighteenth-century keyboard music in performance. She has published studies of Scarlatti sonatas as royal portraits in Domenico Scarlatti Adventures and of performance as a medium for moral criticism in “François Couperin, Moraliste?” in Eighteenth-Century Music.

Jennifer Ronyak teaches at the University of North Texas. Her research focuses on German Lieder and the role of musical performance in German culture throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Her work has been published in The Journal of the American Musicological Society, 19th-Century Music, the Jahrbuch Musik und Gender, and Music & Letters. As a faculty member of the Song Scholarship and Performance Program at the Vancouver International Song Institute, she has explored the implications of this research for current performing practices. Dr. Ronyak is completing the monograph Intimacy, Performance, and the Lied in the Early Nineteenth Century (under contract with Indiana University Press), which concerns the problem of intimate expression in salon and concert performances of Lieder at the start of the nineteenth century.

Chantal Frankenbach is assistant professor of music at California State University, Sacramento. She earned her Ph.D. from the University of California, Davis with a dissertation titled “Disdain for Dance, Disdain for France: Choreophobia in German Musical Modernism.” Her recent article in Dance Chronicle, “Dancing the Redemption of French Literature: Rivière, Mallarmé, and Le Sacre du printemps,” was awarded the 2016 Selma Jeanne Cohen Prize in Dance Aesthetics. Frankenbach is writing a book on Isadora Duncan’s reception in Germany.

Steven Huebner holds the James McGill chair in musicology at McGill University; his work centers on French and Italian music of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. He recently completed a monograph entitled Les Opéras de Verdi: Éléments d’un langage musico-dramatique, which will be published shortly by Presses de l’Université de Montréal.
