SUBMISSIONS

The Journal of Musicology welcomes articles in all areas of musical scholarship, including history, criticism, analysis, and performance practice. The Journal does not regularly publish reviews, but invites proposals for review essays on important books, music editions, and conference reports. All articles are published in English. Submissions should be sent in electronic form (as an attachment to an e-mail message) to submissions@journalofmusicology.org. Please include an abstract and complete contact information (e-mail, telephone, and postal address). Full instructions, including a postal address for materials that cannot be sent electronically, are at www.journalofmusicology.org.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Emily Richmond Pollock is a member of the faculty in the Music and Theater Arts Section of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She earned her Ph.D. in music history and literature from the University of California, Berkeley in 2012. Her research has been supported by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), the Paul Sacher Stiftung, and the Class of 1947 at MIT.

Pauline Fairclough is reader in Music at the University of Bristol and has published widely on Soviet musical culture in the Stalin era. Her most recent book, Classics for the Masses: Shaping Soviet Musical Identity Under Lenin and Stalin, was published by Yale University Press in 2016. She has edited two books on Shostakovich for Cambridge University Press, and is author of the forthcoming critical biography of Shostakovich for Reaktion Press.

Gina Bombola is a lecturer in musicology at Texas Christian University. Her research focuses on intersections between film, vocality, opera, and 1930s/1940s American popular culture. She has presented her research at such conferences as the American Musicological Society, Music and the Moving Image, and the Society for American Music. Bombola earned her Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (2017), where she received the Glen Haydon Award for an Outstanding Dissertation in Musicology.

Benjamin Givan is associate professor of music at Skidmore College. His recent publications include two articles on the French jazz singer, lyricist, and literary translator Mimi Perrin, a study of the jazz manouche genre, and an essay titled “Rethinking Interaction in Jazz Improvisation” that received the 2017 Steve Larson Award for Jazz Scholarship from the Society for Music Theory’s Jazz Interest Group.
