ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Sam Barrett is Reader in Early Medieval Music at the University of Cambridge. He has published widely in the field of medieval Latin song, with a particular interest in issues of notation, transmission, and performance. His two-volume study of the surviving medieval notations for Boethius's On the Consolation of Philosophy provided the basis for collaboration with the ensemble Sequentia, culminating in a CD released in 2018 and titled Boethius: Songs of Consolation. He serves on the editorial boards of Music & Letters and Early Music History.

Mary Ellen (Molly) Ryan received her Ph.D. in musicology from Indiana University in 2016. Her research focuses on the role of music and spirituality in healing from political disasters in Renaissance Italy. She has presented her work at numerous conferences, including annual meetings of the American Musicological Society and the Renaissance Society of America, the Medieval-Renaissance Music Conference, and Durham University's "Trauma Studies in the Medical Humanities." She is an adjunct faculty member at Bowling Green State University and Terra State Community College (Fremont, Ohio).
